Mail (the old, slow kind)	.. WAREHOUSE BBS, Cesar Keller, Wydlerweg 17, CH-8047 Zurich, SWITZERLAND

This list is made possible by donations from people like you - Thanks!

Bank: ZKB 1100-1111.010 / 700, or PTT: PC 80-170747-9

[-----> World wide distribution <-----=]

Here's where you can find this list each month. The filename should be DREAMmy.TXT, where mm=month, yy=year. It's available for download on the WAREHOUSE BBS, most other fine BBS and systems connected to FIDO-Net or Ami-Net in Switzerland.

FIDO-Net: "DREAM"-File-Area or via a file request to 2:301/807 using the filename "DREAM". Contact your Boss or Hub to receive "DREAM" automatically.

Ami-Net: "DREAM.ANT"-File-Area or via a file request to 44:8010/407 using the filename "DREAM". Contact your Boss or Hub to receive "DREAM.ANT" automatically.

...for DreamScan 1.1 by Angelo Mantellini (DSCAN11.LHA), for Amiga, which creates an Amiga-only BBS list.
 ...for Amiga computers with the best multitasking OS available.

[=====> Wanted: New Systems <=====]

Do YOU know of any electronic system that is 1) in Switzerland and 2) reachable via modem, ISDN/SwissNet, Telepac/X.25, Internet/Telnet/FTP, Voice/TouchTone/FAX or some other network, that isn't already on this list? It doesn't matter if the system is public, private, commercial or restricted, just send me all the info that you have about such systems. My goal is to collect info on ALL systems available in Switzerland, so that it's easier to get an overall picture of the telecommunications possibilities in Switzerland.

[=====> DREAM Europe <=====]

I think it would be great to organize a BBS list of Europe! Please send me all European BBS lists you can find, old or new. If you know somebody that maintains a list or if you do, please contact me and give me a voice phone number, BBS phone number, Internet or FIDO-Address. Anything! Thanks.

[=====> DREAM Yellow Pages <=====]

Sysops, do you want your BBS to additionally appear in the special "DREAM Yellow Pages" section? Just send me Fr.2.-/month/line. The one line per BBS in the main section is still FREE of course. One line can be max. 75 characters long. Please use only standard ASCII characters that are available on all computer platforms. The number in the right bottom corner of each entry shows you how many more months have been payed for.

[=====> 2. BULLETIN BOARD SYSTEMS <=====]

Electronic Bulletin Board Systems (BBS) are called "Mailboxen" in German and "Serveurs" in French. This is a list of all BBS located in Switzerland (CH) and Fuerstentum Liechtenstein (FL), which is also connected to Switzerland's phone network (same country code: 41). The western part of Switzerland speaks French, the southern part Italian, and the rest mostly "Swiss German", a primitive form of German with many different dialects.

[=====> 2.a) Normal Phone Lines <=====]

You need a computer, a modem and a normal analog telephone line to call a BBS below. You can find rate information in the phone book. To call a BBS from outside Switzerland, dial your international access code plus 41 plus the number without the first 0. For example, from the USA, dial 011 41 14925157, or from Germany, 00 41 14925157 to reach my BBS.

[-----> DISCONNECTED SYSTEMS <-----=]

Please remove these numbers from your dialing directory IMMEDIATELY!
Never call again and DON'T use old lists, because numbers change often.

These systems can't be called from outside Switzerland. Inside Switzerland, they cost the same everywhere. Part of the money goes to the owner of the number. The 4th digit tells you the price. For example 156-3xxx always costs Fr.0.60/min (yes, per MINUTE). Watch your phone bill...

[====> 2.d) PTT's ISDN/SwissNet2 Lines <-----=]

"ISDN" means "Integrated Services Digital Network" which is an end to end international digital network for voice (digitized), data, fax and video (digitized) communication. A normal ISDN line uses the same wires as an old analog line, but gives you two logical lines (channels) of 64000 bps each! You need an ISDN-adapter and such an ISDN line to call a BBS below. Voice calls to an ISDN line can be made from analog lines too. The connection charge is the same as on analog lines. You can find rate information in the phone Book. ISDN calls to other ISDN-users cost Fr.0.10 even if nobody is home or if the line is busy. ISDN-users will see a caller's complete phone number if the caller is also an ISDN-user or if he is connected to an ISDN-compatible telephone switch (about 75% of Switzerland and also many international calls).

To call a BBS from outside Switzerland, dial your international access code plus 41 plus the number without the first 0. For example, from the USA, dial 011 41 14001498, or from Germany, 00 41 14001498 to reach my BBS.

[-----> 2.e) Internet Systems <-----=]

Millions of systems worldwide are connected to the global Internet. The Internet is not a commercial network, but a collection of local data networks that are connected with each other. In Switzerland, two such local networks are operated by EUNET and SWITCH.

To access (login) a computer on the Internet, you need an account on a system that is connected directly via a leased line. This service is called "Telnet". To get files you use a service called "FTP" (File Transfer Protocol). Internet accounts are available at universities, large companies, large BBS or from commercial provider's like chNet, EUNet, PING or SWITCH. If you just want to send Internet E-Mail or read Usenet newsgroups (discussion areas with over 4000 topics), then all you need is an account on a system that downloads this data regularly. Even small BBS often carry it. Welcome to the Information Superhighway!

[-----> Internet Mail to BBS <-----=]

In most cases only the sysop can be reached directly via mail. BBS-users can only be reached on some systems, but the sysop can usually forward the message to a user if necessary. Ask the BBS sysop for details.

[=-----> Swiss Internet Realtime Services <-----=]

These are various *public* and *free* services provided by hosts/entities of the Swiss core Internet. Depending on the type of service or carrier service, access is available in different ways and by several programs.

IMPORTANT

In order to be able to use any of these services, you need to have access to an Internet host with the required connectivity and service software!

Each one of the following services is described by three details:

ADDRESS [IP] Network host address of the service, where ADDRESS is the (untranslated) alphanumeric domain-style address and [IP] is the (physical) numeric IP address.

TYPE/CARRIER Type of service (or carrier service): the Internet service application program, which provides the network connection.

DESCRIPTION Name of the service and a very brief description; login identification, ports etc., if necessary.

& DON'T FORGET...

that many of these services are operated *voluntarily* by nice net folks, contributing a great deal of useful stuff to the Network. Don't abuse them!

Last update: Sat Mar 26 23:47:57 MET 1994; Ch.Eckert (eckert@spn.com)

Send updates/corrections/suggestions for entries to: service@spn.com

Wanted: Any *public* and *free* services, especially: more MUDs, BBS's, chat systems, WAIS/Netfind/WWW/Archie servers, libraries, online shops etc.

Notes: *Public* and *free* services must be accessible by anyone and on the whole Internet (worldwide), without personal registration or payment. Restricted services are NOT accepted!
(All entries are examined regularly.)

For the time being, the list still contains a few restricted services. Some are only available from within the net of the national Internet provider, some are additionally open to requests from abroad. Later releases of this list will show exclusively REAL *public* and *free* services!

[=-----> Modem Types <-----=]

All following modems with MNP and/or V.42/V.42bis (error correction and compression) and V.21/V.22/V.22bis (300, 1200 and 2400 bps).
 Example: If a modem with "+H" calls a modem with "+V" you will get a V.22bis (2400 bps) connection with V.42bis or MNP correction/compression.
 Modems will connect with the fastest protocol that both modems support.

International ITU-T standards (the new name for CCITT):

!V	28800 bps V.34	(available NOW, known as V.Fast)
+V	14400 bps V.32bis	(99% of modern high speed modems)
V	9600 bps V.32	(old modems)
+24	2400 bps V.22bis
24	2400 bps V.22bis	(without MNP or V.42/V.42bis)
+12	1200 bps V.22
12	1200 bps V.22	(without MNP or V.42/V.42bis)
3	300 bps V.21	(without MNP or V.42/V.42bis)

V32terbo, not official ITU-T but public standard, compatible to V32bis:

T	19200 bps V.32terbo & V.32bis	(many new modems, AT&T, USRob,..)
+T	21600 bps terbo/ASL & V.32bis	(only USRobotics 1993/94)

V.Fast-Class by Rockwell & Hayes, compatible to V32terbo:

F	28800 bps V.FC	& V.32bis	(Hayes Optima 288, Supra, Zoom, Euro, USRobotics, and many more)
---	----------------	-----------	--

HST-protocol (High Speed Technology) only by USRobotics:

+HF!V	168HST,V.32terbo/ASL,V.FC,V.34	(USRobotics 28800 V.Everything 1994/5)
+HF+T	168HST,V.32terbo/ASL,V.FC	(USRobotics 28800 V.Fast-Class 1994)
+H+T	168HST,V.32terbo/ASL	(USRobotics 21600 Courier 1993/4)
+H+V	168HST,V.32bis	(USRobotics Dual Standard 1992/3)
H+V	144HST,V.32bis	(USRobotics Dual Standard 1991)
HV	144HST,V.32	(USRobotics Dual Standard 1990)
+H	16800 bps HST	(USRobotics Courier HST 1992)
H	14400 bps HST	(USRobotics Courier HST 1991)

ZyX-protocol only by ZyXEL:

+Z+V	19200 bps ZyX	& V.32bis	(ZyXEL U-1496E+ or U-1496+ LCD)
Z+V	16800 bps ZyX	& V.32bis	(ZyXEL U-1496E or U-1496 LCD)

PEP-protocol by TeleBit:

+P+V	23000 bps TurboPEP	& V.32bis	(TeleBit WorldBlazer)
P+V	18000 bps PEP	& V.32bis	(TeleBit TrailBlazer,T1000-T3000)

Hayes-protocol only by Hayes:

Y	9600 bps Hayes		(Hayes)

Other networks:

ILink/SWISSLink: Batch network using non-FIDO-Net-compatible software, ILink is worldwide and SWISSLink only in Switzerland.

Zerberus-Netz: Also called Z-Netz, batch network with most systems in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Maus-Netz: Fast batch network with most systems in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Usenet: Largest international, non-commercial message network, data is transferred on Internet.

Internet: Worldwide realtime network, data is transferred on leased lines using TCP/IP protocols. Includes services such as E-Mail, Usenet news, Telnet, FTP, IRC, Gophers, MUDs, WorldWideWeb/Mosaic and much more. Millions of systems are connected directly with a leased line, or online with SLIP/PPP or via UUCP (batch polling). Addresses look like this: name@address.address.etc or like this: xxx.xxx.xxx.xxx.

SLIP/PPP: You connect yourself to the Internet not with a leased line, but with a dialup-line for temporary, full access.

UUCP: Not a network, but a UNIX protocol which let's you transport Internet/Usenet data over a modem, by polling the host system regularly for the latest data.

X.25: Worldwide high speed data lines. In Switzerland it's called PTT's TelePac. X.25 addresses are called NUAs and look like this: 0208057040540

X.28: If you want to access X.25 with a modem, you use X.28
